(Successor to the Maryville Republican)

VOLUME 1.

MARYVILLE, MISSOURI, WEDNESDAY, MAY 3, 1911.

NO. 280.

WATER MEETING

HELD TUESDAY EVENING IN COMMERCIAL CLUB ROOMS.

WILL GET EXPERT TO COME

To Investigate the Plant and See What Improvements Are Necessary—Council Will Act.

A meeting was held Tuesday evening in the Commercial Club rooms to discuss the water problem of the city. It was attended by Mayor A. S. Robey, Alderman F. C. Conrad, Manager G. B. Roseberry of the Water Company, and Ed C. Curfman and S. G. Gillam, members of the water committee of the Commercial Club.

The city has been trying to make some effort to settle the water question and it looks now as if it will be soon. Many are of the opinion that the city water company could not get a franchise if they asked for increased rates, while there are some who say that the best way is for the city to buy the plant.

At the meeting Tuesday, S. G. Gillam read a report of the water rates in other towns and also gave the condition of water company in Maryville. Mr. Gillam's report was not made public. We understand that according to the report it is not necessary for the water company to make the increased rates to make repairs, if such repairs will save operating expenses. The committee is not able to tell whether the repairs that the water company are figuring on making in case they get a franchise, will save in the expenses of operating.

It was decided that the city council at their meeting Friday evening should take steps toward securing an expert engineer to come to Maryville to investigate the water plant, what new repairs are needed and what the plant is actually worth.

RONEY'S BOYS CAME WEDNESDAY NOON

Henry B. Roney and his famous band of boys came in Wednesday noon and are at the Linville hotel. They will appear in concert at the First Presbyterian church tonight.

They are royal looking little fellows, and are as full of fun and mischief as they are of music. They know a good town when they see it, too. Coming up on the bus at noon, one of them said, "Well, I wonder what this town is like?" Another one answered, "Keep your eyes open and you'll see. I don't see much, myself." (This was down near the depot). When the top of the big hill was reached that gave a good view up town, one of them stood up and said, "Just look at that view, will you? That's what I call good. Don't you, Mr. Roney? This town's all right."

And they all agreed to it.

HEARD MR. GUNN'S PRIVATE LECTURES

Miss Lottie Perrin primary teacher in the Maryville Conservatory of Music, who has just returned from Chicago, had advantage of excellent opportunities while studying with Glen Dillard Gunn since the first of the year. She attended his private lectures to teachers, heard their questions answered and many experiences related by teachers who had had years of work. This, in connection with the regular piano study was of incalculable benefit to her in her work as a teacher.

Mrs. L. M. Jones who was called to Maryville several weeks ago by the fatal illness of her mother, Mrs. T. H. Roach, left Tuesday night for her home in New York City.

DR. GERTRUDE DUVALL

PAYNE CASE OF OREGON SETTLED TUESDAY

George Robb Ellison returned Tuesday evening from St. Joseph, where he had been on business in trying to reach a settlement in the case where James E. Payne and Mrs. Mattie Payne of Oregon are the principals. The case was settled Tuesday.

Payne was asking for a receiver for his property alleging that his wife is dissipating his resources. This suit was filed at Albany, Gentry county. Mrs. Payne is suing her husband for divorce and for partition of the estate. Prior to the marriage in St. Joseph in November, 1909, an ante-nuptial contract was entered into, in which Payne granted to the new Mrs. Payne one-third of all his property. Payne is very wealthy.

Mrs. Payne later sued her husband for divorce, alleging cruelty and inhuman treatment. Payne is eighty years old and she is forty-six. The divorce and the partition suits were filed at Oregon. The divorce suit was tried at the January term of court. Payne had filed a cross-bill, charging that Mrs. Payne had threatened his life. The case was taken under advisement by Judge W. C. Ellison and his verdict has not yet been given.

Payne has 600 acres of land in Holt County, owns a hotel in Oregon and has other property. The case has attracted unusual attention throughout Northwest Missouri because of Payne's wealth and his age. Shina-bargar Blagg & Ellison of Maryville represent the husband and Allen Gabbert, Mitchell & Martin of St. Joseph are attorneys for the wife.

MYSTERY IN A HAT STORE FIRE

The Kansas City Star had the following in regard to the mystery in the Woodson Smith Hat Company fire:

Who set fire to the building occupied by the Woodson Smith Hat Company, Seventh street and Broadway, May 20 (Decoration Day), 1910? Both Mr. Smith and the insurance companies he is suing to collect $47,000 insurance agree it was of incendiary origin, but they can't agree as to who started the fire. In the suit to collect $2,500 on one policy written by the Merchants' Insurance Company on trial in Judge Lucas' court, Claude Weiss, a fireman on the insurance patrol, testified this morning he was the first fireman to enter the building after the fire started.

"I entered by the front door which was unlocked," Weiss testified. "As I entered a man brushed by me going out. I didn't know the man and I am not sure I can identify him."

The insurance company says it has a witness who can identify the man who was seen leaving the building. Weiss testified he found a blaze under a pile of hat boxes on the first floor, another blaze in the basement and fire at two other places in the building.

Mr. Smith testified yesterday afternoon that he left the building with two friends a short time before the fire started. He returned to the building alone a few minutes later to get some stamps he had promised Mrs. Smith he would carry home to her, he said. There was no one in the building at the time so far as he discovered, he said, and he felt sure he locked the front door as he passed out. The fire was discovered a short time after he left the building.

Mr. Butler is making plans to get even some day.

J. O. Miller of Skidmore, a lumber merchant, was ordered to refloor the West Skidmore bridge that goes across the Nodaway.

Bids were opened by the county court Wednesday afternoon for four new concrete bridges and repairs on a bridge on the Platte river. The contract had not been let up to the time of going to press. Three of the new bridges are located in Lincoln township and called for concrete abutments and concrete floor.

THOUGHT THEY WERE MARRIED, BUT—

Leo Butler and Miss Marian Hill went to St. Joseph Tuesday morning to see the Moisant aviators in their exhibition flights at Lake Contrary. They had a very pleasant day and were not aware until their return Tuesday night, that their departure from the city had caused any suspicion. They were met at the Burlington station by a large number of their friends who were all ready to take them over the city in a cart they had prepared especially for their occupancy. The "charivariers" occupied a very pretentious looking outing wagon and hauled the unwilling supposed bride and groom in the cart behind them by means of a long rope. They took them for a honeymoon trip through the streets of the city for about two hours singing songs and attracting all of the attention they could to their discomfiture before they allowed them to go home.

Mr. Butler is making plans to get even some day.

VISITED BROTHER AT THE HOSPITAL

Mrs. E. A. Brittain and Mrs. B. A. Uppenkamp of St. Joseph visited in Maryville Tuesday afternoon with their brother, Julius Ellerman of Clyde, who is a patient at St. Francis' hospital. Mr. Ellerman, it will be remembered, was struck by a Wabash engine at Clyde Saturday night, April 22, and was so badly injured that it was at first thought he would die, but he is now regarded out of danger and is improving every day. One hip and an arm were broken and he was seriously bruised.

C. W. B. M. Meeting.

M. I. Circle.

The M. I. Circle voted $5 toward the "Tin Can Day" fund, at its meeting Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. M. M. Denning in the Parvin flats. Saturday, May 6, is "Tin Can Day," you know, and the circle is as anxious as any one to do its part toward paying the boys and girls for all the unsightly things they can gather together for Mayor Robey to count Saturday morning, if he can do it in that time.

The Circle elected officers for the coming year, which begins with September. Mrs. W. A. Bailey was elected president; Mrs. Jacob E. Melvin vice-president; Mrs. Omar Catterson, treasurer. Mrs. J. E. Douglas, who was elected secretary, declined to serve, so the office of secretary will be filled at the next meeting. Mrs. T. K. Wray, the retiring secretary and critic for the afternoon, was unable to be present at Tuesday's meeting on account of sickness. Her place was filled by Mrs. William Funk. The devotional service was led by Mrs. A. C. Gann. It's call was responded to with "Garden Hints." Brief biographical sketches of Ralph Connor, John Fox Jr. and Booth Tarkington were given and composed by Mrs. Funk. In the round table discussion, led by Mrs. C. B. Roberts, the woman's suffrage question was very interestingly handled. It was the unanimous opinion that sex should not be the only qualification of a voter, as it now appears to be in many places. These qualifications of a voter, as suggested by Mrs. Funk, met the approval of the Circle. They were: First. Every voter should be able to read and write the English language. Second. He should have been a resident of the United States for 21 years. Third. He should pay some kind of a tax.

By vote the study for the coming year was decided, "Macbeth" will be the study for the first half of the year, and "The Tempest" the second half. The lesson Tuesday afternoon closed the comparative study of "Romeo and Juliet" and Browning's "A Blot in the Scutcheon." It was one of the most instructive lessons this division has had. Miss Clara Sturm read a paper on the history of stage presentation and Miss Clara Bellows read a paper on "What is Tragedy?" The reading of the balcony scene in "A Blot in the Scutcheon" and "Romeo and Juliet" were given by Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Edward G. Oscar. ## EIGHT FOR RIGHTS SAKE.

The purchase of elections probably reached its zenith in the two Hanna conducted campaigns against Bryan and the Cortelyou-Bilis chaperoned Roosevelt campaign against Alton B. Parker. In those three presidential contests the Republican war chest was filled to an overflowing top with immense corporation contributions, and while the exposures which have followed the Harriman letters has somewhat abated the evil, it is by no means eliminated, but if the senate shall accept the house action the future cleanliness of elections is fairly certain.

More and more clearly, events read to men and parties the political value of doing right simply because it is right. Fairness and justice are political assets. Far be it from us to say this is an essential reason or even an important reason, for being fair and just. But it is a fact. Its practical merit is its compelling power of aligning on the side of probity that large class of persons who, while they would scorn outright dishonesty, yet are swayed more or less by considerations of what seems to be opportune or politic. "Honesty is the best policy," is not a high moral maxim yet it has prevented many a man from stealing. It can do and is doing more than that. In these days of nice and delicate adjustments of ethical and civic questions, it is wielding a favorable influence on the man who wouldn't steal but who might make a compromise with his conscience.

A striking instance of the beneficial effect of doing right, simply because it is right, has been furnished by the Democratic house caucus in making the bill to place on the free list about 100 articles, mostly of particular utility to farmers, a party measure. Partisan Republican papers, eagerly on the alert to catch the Democrats tripping in tactics, proclaimed as soon as this bill was introduced, that the Democrats had made a blunder. These same organs said that the "farmers' free list" would interfere with the reciprocity program. But hardly had the free list bill been twenty-four hours before the country than most of these newspapers changed their tone. Those of them which are foes of reciprocity ceased to hold up the good turn done for the agricultural interests of the country as a tactical error. The standard papers fell back on their old position of hostility to tariff reduction on general principles. The Democratic action had torn away the cloak of hypocrisy with which the Bourbon newspapers had covered themselves. As for the Republican papers which are friends of reciprocity, they quickly saw that the "farmers' free list" had not hurt the cause of reciprocity in the least, but had, on the contrary, helped it. They began to admit that fact, either by a favorable tone of comment, or by a tacit abandonment of their former assertion that the Democrats had made a strategic error. All this the Democratic caucus accomplished simply by going ahead and placing a hundred articles on the free list because it was right to do so. It was an action which required not a little courage. But it was sound Democracy, sound civics and sound morals. The outcome proved it to be good politics as well. This is always the case with measures which find their reasons in high motives of honor and their sponsors in those to whom doing the honest thing, because it is honest, is the paramount consideration.

In all its actions to date the Democratic house majority has evidently had only in mind doing that which a sound judgment told them was the right thing to do—National Monthly.

FROM THE "DEVIL."

What Pa and the Editor Sez About My Writin' and Other Things.

I feel I owe the publick another apology fur writin' to you agin, but the foreman got the good heart and let me off Saturday afternoon and I got so enthused when I looked out on the street, I couldn't resist the temptation to rite again.

Ge, but the city was crowded with people! I wuz born in Alabama and I came to Maryville recently. I never saw so many people at one time on the street. Jeroosalam! (excuse swearin'), but I never thought there wuz so many pretty girls in the world as I saw that day, a-wavin' pennants and lookin' too butiful for anything. The city wuz deckorated to soot 'em all, I guess, and I do so hope they'll all cum agin.

My, but I hope I'll make a editor sum day. I wuz a-talkin' to the editor today, an' he sez if I keep on I'll make another Horace Greeley.

Do you notice the improvement in my writin' yet? My grandfather and dad spell fine. They have a sistem of their own, and ain't it funny? the stile has changed and they are rite "in it" now. The grate professors of the schules call it phonetick spellin'. I use this sistem.

The foreman says I'm the missing link; that things never did go rite till I got here. I hope he ain't makin' reference to Ilooshuns. My, but these big words are hard to spell.

I have ben readin' about "Clean-up" or "Tin Kan Day." It cum on the 6th of May. I have always ben in fur economy, and if the people woud give me and Timothy Pascoe the kontract, we'd kan all the dogs fur less money than they're payin' fur kans. Payin' 1 cent a-dozin' is too much. By our sistem, we'd git rid of the kans, the dogs would leave town, and save the people frum hidroobolia in dog days.

I do so hope the people of Maryville will decide to bld a park. The city needs one and what a joy it would be for me and my gurl and the rest of the people—in us all, durin' the heated term to go out and ride on the figer 8, shute the shutes and ride the merry-go-round. Gee, the thot of such things gits me excited.

Pa sez, when he red my artikle to the publick Saturday, I woud shure make a grate riter.

We need a new city Hall, and I hope the good people of the town I have adopted won't be backward in goin' to the poles and votin' fur it when the time cum.

You'll please excuse me fur this time, as the foreman is a-hollerin' at me agin, and I'll rite to you soon as my nurves git settled.

Yours affectionately,

THE "DEVIL."

P. S.—I'm sure goin' to "Tin Kan Day," next Saturday in the mornin', if the foreman'll let me off agin! Frum 9 to 11 ain't long. I hurn sum of them gurls at the track meet say they wuz goin' to be ther with all the kans in their respective naburhoods.

Clarence Binter Is Better.

Clarence Binter, the eleven-year-old son of Joseph Binter, who was injured in an automobile accident Saturday evening, is getting along nicely at St. Francis hospital, where he will remain until he was recovered. It was at first thought he had suffered internal injuries along with a broken leg, but it is now believed that the broken bone is his only injury. He does not suffer pain and is a cheerful little patient. He is receiving many attentions from friends, old and young, while his school friends shower him with flowers every day.

HEAD OF SCHOOLS
OVER SEVEN YEARS

The Democrat-Forum erred Tuesday when the statement was made that Superintendent Hawkins of our city schools had occupied that position for fifteen years.

Mr. Hawkins has been a member of the faculty of our city schools fifteen years, but has been their superintendent but half that time. He was principal of the high school seven and one-half years previous to his election as superintendent.

WILCOX.

Mrs. C. C. Hamline and daughter, Mrs. Ida Hartough, of St. Joseph, dined with Mr. and Mrs. John Vert of Maryville last Thursday. Misses Marie Cain and Dora Smith of Maryville were at home over Sunday.

A small number of our people enjoyed hearing Rev. John Thompson talk at the M. E. church Sunday morning. After the services Mr. Thompson sang a solo, entitled, "Something New," and we think it was fully appreciated.

The supper served by the ladies of the M. E. church was well attended. The ladies served a fine supper and ice cream and every one had a good time.

The Rebekah lodge will give an entertainment at the Odd Fellows hall on Saturday night, May 6, the program will be well worth hearing, and we hope everyone will show as much interest in the lodge affairs as at church festivals. Come out and have a good time yourself. Don't try to hinder those who can. We haven't learned the price of admission, but are sure it will be right.

Hazel Cain is mourning over the loss of her only goose which died Monday night. All who can will please shed a sympathetic tear.

Mrs. Ida Hartough returned to her home in St. Joseph Saturday after a short visit with her parents here.

Miss Jennie Duncan spent the day Wednesday with her brother, Clarence, in Maryville. His daughter, Bernice, is at home, sick with the measles.

We have had a few nice showers the last week, and quite a change in the weather, turning colder Sunday evening and still continuing real chilly. Did you see the eclipse Friday?

Elected Trustee.

At a meeting of the Elks lodge on Tuesday evening, William Forrest Phares was elected trustee to succeed Charles Parcher, who resigned. Lawrence G. Schumacher, Harry Hudson, Frank G. Shoemaker and Eldon Irvin were selected as representative from the Maryville lodge to the State Grand Lodge which meets in Macon in June.

W. E. Goforth, Burlington agent, went to Kansas City Wednesday morning.

Mrs. William Wallis, Sr., went to Hopkins Wednesday to attend the luncheon given by Mrs. Edward Woffers, Sr.

A Poet Without Honor.

Owen Wister, the novelist, was talking in Philadelphia about a poet whose works sold poorly.

"Poets are usually without honor," he said. "Remember Wordsworth's case. The great Wordsworth, you know, was in the habit of spouting his poetry aloud as he took his lonely walks. Thus he polished and elaborated his lines. Thus, too, he got the reputation among the Rydal Lake folk of being a bit daft.

"Well, John, what's the news?" Hartley Coleridge once asked an old stonebreaker by the lakeside.

"Why, nowt verra particlker," the stonebreaker replied; "only old Wordsworth's broken loose agin."—Minneapolis Journal.

Greatness and the Chain.

No man can be a great officer who is not infinitely patient of details, for an army is an aggregation of details, a defect in any one of which may destroy or impair the whole. It is a chain of innumerable links, but the whole chain is no stronger than its weakest link.—George S. Hallard: The Life and Campaign of George B. McClellan.

This makes steer prices 29@25c and heifers 25@40c higher than the low time last week. Outlook strong next few days, and we advise shipping cattle which are good and fat and ready to come.

Hog receipts, 8,500. Market 5@10c higher; top, $6.15; bulk $5.90@6.10. It looks advisable to market fat hogs as soon as possible.

Sheep receipts, 4,500. Market active and strong; top sheep, $4.00; yearling wethers, $4.35; clipped lambs $5.20; woolen lambs, $5.50. We look for moderate supplies and a little further improvement in sheep prices this week.

WHEN YOU ARE GONE.

When you are gone the Phoebe's call is stilled.

Or seems to be:

The sheen upon the maple's green is dulled.

As by a shadow;

My eyes, unseeing, make me miss

The violets,

Though they are blooming there,

As when we stooped in quiet joy

To break their dew-wet stems.

Over the stars a veil is hung,

And all the sadness of the sea is

Flung upon the sands.

To feel your hands

Upon my brow!

To feel them—now—

The hurt of you afar

Is in the sun and rain,

And I am bent and old—

When you are gone.

HAIR WANTED

NEWS OF INTEREST TO PEOPLE WHO HAVE NO HAIR.

There is one place where bald headed men shine, and that is in the front row seats of the theatre. They do not obscure your view like the "merry widow" hats and the reflection of the footlights on their plates lends a certain glamour to the scene. If these bald headed people had used Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy in their earlier days they would not be so conspicuous now. This preparation does not plant new hair, but it does strengthen weak, dying hair, and not only brightens dull, parched hair, but gradually restores the color to faded or

CHARLES H. HYDE IS INDICTED

Chamberlain of City of New York Charged With Bribery.

ENTERS PLEA OF NOT GUILTY,

Indictment Is Outgrowth of Grand Jury's Investigation Into Failure of Carnegie Trust Company and Joseph G. Robin—Check for $14,000 Involved.

New York, May 3.—Charles Hiram Hyde, the city chamberlain, appeared in court and pleaded not guilty to the indictment charging bribery. The offense charged is punishable by imprisonment for not more than ten years or a fine of not more than $5,000 or both.

Ball in $7,500 was given. Samuel Untermyer, the chamberlain's counsel, asked for an early trial, which District Attorney Whitman promised.

The grand jury which has been investigating the affairs of the suspended Carnegie Trust company found the indictment. Mr. Hyde's indictment is said to have followed a story told the grand jury by Joseph G. Robin, who is said to have related that he made loans through the Northern bank to the Carnegie Trust company under what he described as coercion. J. V. Smith, Hyde's secretary, is alleged to have received a check for about $14,000 from the Carnegie company, which Smith is said to have told the grand jury he turned over to Hyde.

Law Partner of Gaynor.

Before his appointment, Chamberlain Hyde was the law partner of Mayor Gaynor and has long been his personal friend and political adviser.

During Hyde's absence in the south the Carnegie Trust company, in which the city was a heavy depositor, went down and a storm of criticism rose against him. It did not shake the mayor's loyalty, and Mr. Gaynor came to his defense.

Investigation of the Carnegie Trust company brought out a batch of indictments against those controlling its affairs, who also are said to have boasted of their friendship with Hyde. Various city depositories were shown to have made loans to the Carnegie company directly before or after they received city deposits.

Chamberlain Hyde issued a statement, which says:

"For more than two months the campaign has been carried on against me by the district attorney and other officials with the active and hearty support of two newspapers. On April 19 I asked the public to suspend judgment, stating that nothing had been done by me as city chamberlain of which I or my city need be ashamed. I have no doubt of the outcome and my complete exoneration and I shall endeavor to await it with patience and equanimity."

DIETZ DEFENDS SELF IN COURT

Famous Cameron Dam Defender Has No Attorney.

CONDUCTS HIS OWN CASE.

Asks Talesmen If They Would Be Influenced Against Him and His Family by What He Called "Despotism of Lumber Trust."

Hayward, Wis., May 3.—John F. Dietz, his wife and son, Leslie, were placed on trial here before Judge Alexander H. Reid in the circuit court. They are jointly charged with the murder of Oscar Harp, a deputy sheriff, who was one of a posse which besieged the Dietz cabin at Cameron dam, on the Thornapple river, last October, and who was found dead after the smoke of battle had cleared away.

At that time John Dietz was wanted on a warrant charging assault with intent to kill a man with whom he had had a fight in Winter, Wis. Dietz shot the man, but did not kill him.

There were also several other warrants out for John Dietz and for a number of years he had defied the officers and boasted that no one could safely attempt to serve a warrant on him.

The trouble with the officers grew out of a dispute he had with a lumber company which built a dam in the Thornapple river near the Dietz home. The flood waters, Dietz claimed, damaged his land.

He could not get what he claimed was a satisfactory settlement from the lumber company, so he destroyed the dam and held up a large cut of logs for a year or more. The company was obliged to haul the logs away with teams.

Bond Is Revoked.

When court opened the Illinois Safety company of Milwaukee and indemnitors, who reinsured Dietz's $10,000 bond, announced to the court that they declined longer to be responsible for Dietz and the latter was given into the custody of Sheriff Fred Claus.

When the trial began there was no attorney for the defense. The senior Dietz conducted his own case. Dietz repeatedly asked jurors if they would be influenced against him and his family by what he called despotism of the so-called lumber trust.

SAY CONDITIONS ARE BAD

Report of Board Criticizes State of Missouri Institutions.

Columbia, Mo., May 3.—Starting conditions in Missouri almshouse and penal institutions, described as a disgrace to state so rich and prosperous, are contained in the report of the state board of charities and corrections. The report states that the thirteen institutions in the state are lacking in modern facilities properly to care for the inmates. Ninety per cent of the feeble minded, it is declared, are allowed to roam at large and many of them marry and reproduce, thus multiplying the number of degenerates and increasing the state's burden.

The blame for the conditions set forth in the report is laid to the niggardly policy of the legislature toward the institutions.

Gunboats are anchored in the canal and guns are mounted on the canal bank, commanding the approaches to the island.

DEFENSE FOR McNAMARAS

Attorney Rappaport of Indianapolis Assumes Charge of Case.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 3.—With the arrival here from Indianapolis of Leo Rappaport, attorney for the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, the cases of John J. McNamara, secretary of that organization, and his brother, James B. McNamara, charged with murder by dynamiting, were expected to reach court with little delay.

Rappaport, who is scheduled to have at least temporary charge of the defense, held an informal conference with Job Harriman of Los Angeles, who will assist him.

W. Joseph Ford, assistant district attorney of this county, who was arrested in Indianapolis on the charge of kidnapping the men, is scheduled to arrive here today.

It is not likely, however, that the arraignment will take place until the superior court judge who will hear all of the proceedings has been selected. Formal court procedure may be delayed until the end of the present week.

Andrew J. Gallagher, the San Francisco union leader, said that there would be ample funds for the defense of the McNamaras.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS TAKEN UP IN TENT
Official Mexican Commissioner Arrives Before Expected.

El Paso, Tex., May 3.—Judge Francisco Carabajal, the official Mexican peace commissioner, arrived here, surprising everybody connected with the negotiations, as he had not been expected for at least twenty-four hours more.

He immediately went into conference with Oscar Braniff, Esquibel Obregon and Rafael Hernandez, who have been acting as go-betweens in the negotiations thus far.

At the conclusion of the conference Senior Braniff announced that Judge Carabajal had brought "full and necessary powers" for treating with the rebel commissioners and that no hitch would occur on that score.

Formal negotiations were taken up in a tent erected in a willow grove on the Mexican side of the Rio Grande, half way between Juarez and the insurrection camp. Judge Carabajal is acting alone, while Dr. Vazquez Gomez represents the provisional government, advised by Don Madero, Sr., and Senor Pino Suarez, a lawyer, and provisional governor of Yucatan.

BASS GUILTY OF MURDER

Springfield (Mo.) Farmer Convicted of Killing His Wife.

Springfield, Mo., May 3.—A. J. Bass, a farmer on trial for killing his wife near here last January, was found guilty of murder in the first degree by a jury in the criminal court. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Last January fire destroyed the Bass home, and in the ruins the body of Mrs. Bass was found. Immediately after the burial of his wife, Bass disappeared. Relatives of the dead woman, fearing foul play, had the body exhumed and several shot were found in her heart. Later Bass was arrested.

The defense explained the presence of shot in Mrs. Bass heart by saying shotgun shells kept in the house had exploded during the fire.
